

Explore Baltimore

For the Art Aficionado

CLICK EACH LOCATION NAME TO VISIT THEIR WEBSITE.

Creative Alliance

3134 Eastern Avenue | Highlandtown

Offering compelling performances and exhibitions in multiple languages, this hub is one of the city's largest community arts venues.

The Charles Theatre

1711 N. Charles Street | Station North

In addition to Hollywood hits, the theater also runs specialty films, foreign films, and cinema classics.

American Visionary Art Museum

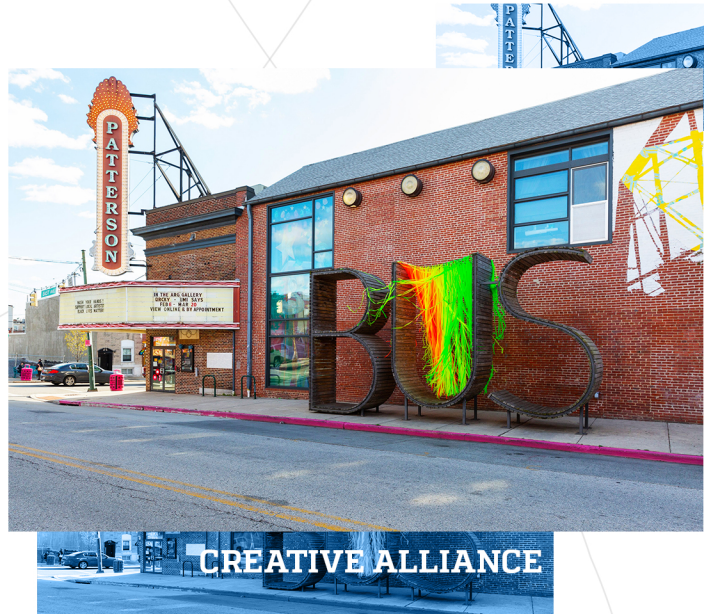

800 Key Highway | Federal Hill

Here you'll find art produced by self-taught artists—like the shiny mosaic walls, the giant golden hand, and Baltimore-painted screens.

Baltimore Museum of Art

10 Art Museum Drive | Charles Village

The BMA is full of 19th century, modern, and contemporary art. Admission is free.

Bromo Seltzer Arts Tower

21 S. Eutaw Street | Downtown

Enjoy the work of local and regional artists through free exhibitions, receptions, and other events such as music and spoken-word performances.

Graffiti Alley

W. 20th Street & N. Howard Street | Station North

In this Baltimore hotspot, street artists create images and murals, allowing their creative ideas to flow freely onto the cement walls.

The Walters Art Museum

600 N. Charles Street | Mt. Vernon

With free admission, you'll be able to experience over 36,000 objects from across the world alongside rotating exhibitions and installations.

GRAFFITI ALLEY

HIPPODROME THEATRE

Baltimore Improv Group

1727 N. Charles Street | Station North

Need a good laugh? Catch a live comedy show that's made up on the spot!

Chesapeake Shakespeare Company

7 S. Calvert Street | Downtown

With an emphasis on Shakespeare plays and other classics, this intimate theater setting allows the audience to connect with the performers and the art-making process.

Everyman Theatre

315 W. Fayette Street | Downtown

Each season artists from the Baltimore-Washington area produce a six-play season featuring both classics and new, burgeoning contemporary plays.

Hippodrome Theatre

12 N. Eutaw Street | Inner Harbor

Originally home to vaudeville performances, you can now watch Broadway shows, musical tours, dance performances, and more in this arts center.

Rams Head Live

20 Market Place | Downtown

Located within Power Plant Live, this concert venue showcases a variety of artists.

Hopkins Symphony Orchestra

Bunting Meyerhoff Interfaith Center & Shriver Hall | JHU Homewood Campus

Consisting of two ensembles (the Hopkins Symphony Orchestra and the Hopkins Concert Orchestra), the orchestra provides a concert series for students and the surrounding communities.

Joseph Meyerhoff Symphony Hall

1212 Cathedral Street | Downtown

Home of the internationally acclaimed Baltimore Symphony Orchestra (BSO). Enjoy symphonic music, jazz and gospel performances, comedy shows, rock concerts, and more.

Peabody Library: Music in the Stacks

17 E. Mt. Vernon Place | Mt. Vernon

Join musicians in the George Peabody Library for classical music concerts!

Pier Six Pavilion

731 Eastern Avenue | Inner Harbor

An outdoor concert pavilion on Pier Six, this venue hosts musicians from all different genres—from pop to jazz and everything in between.

PEABODY LIBRARY